NATIONAL DISTRICT ATTORNEYS ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES NEW VICE PRESIDENT FOR EDUCATION AND ENGAGEMENT

Arlington, Virginia – The National District Attorneys Association (NDAA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Ms. Lorena Vollrath-Bueno as its new Vice President for Education and Engagement. Ms. Vollrath-Bueno, an accomplished legal professional with over nineteen years of experience in the judicial system, brings her extensive expertise in criminal law, trial practice, legal research, and education to the association.

"The addition of Ms. Lorena Vollrath-Bueno to the NDAA's leadership team is a testament to our commitment to excellence. Her vast experience, unwavering commitment to justice, and dedication to the legal profession make her the ideal candidate for this pivotal role within our organization. We look forward to the positive influence she will have on our members and communities nationwide," said Executive Director Nelson Bunn.

Ms. Vollrath-Bueno has an illustrious background in the judicial system, working at both state and federal levels. Most recently, she served as a felony division chief and education coordinator for Florida's Office of the State Attorney in the 2nd Circuit. She has also held a position as Assistant United States Attorney, working under the grant-funded Project Safe Childhood initiative.

Throughout her distinguished career, Ms. Vollrath-Bueno has focused on education in the areas of sex crimes, human trafficking, digital evidence acquisition and presentation, state and federal evidence code, and trial practice. She has collaborated with renowned organizations such as the National Criminal Justice Training Center (NCJTC) of Fox Valley Technical College and the International Centre for Missing and Exploited Children (ICMEC).

Ms. Vollrath-Bueno obtained her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from the University of Miami, where she was a four-year varsity athlete on the women's crew team. She received her Juris Doctor from Florida State College of Law in Tallahassee, FL.

About the National District Attorneys Association:

Formed in 1950, NDAA is the oldest and largest national organization representing state and local prosecutors in the country. With more than 5,500 members representing over two-thirds of the state and local prosecutors' offices, NDAA is recognized as the leading source of national expertise on the prosecution function and is a valuable resource for the media, academia, government, and community leaders. NDAA's mission is to provide state and local prosecutors with the knowledge, skills, and support they need to ensure that justice is done and that public safety rights are protected.
